REPORTING OPTIONS

Campus Reporting

The Office of Equal Opportunity and Access (EOA)
Phone: 541-737-3556
Email: Equal.Opportunity@oregonstate.edu
Website / Online Reporting: eoa.oregonstate.edu

EOA is responsible for overseeing OSU's compliance with civil rights and affirmative action laws, regulations, and policies. EOA is OSU's Title IX and Americans with Disabilities Act coordinating office. EOA responds in a prompt and equitable manner to reports of sexual misconduct and discrimination.

EOA is able to provide a range of supportive measures (academic supports, on-campus housing relocation, university no contact orders, etc.) regardless of whether or not an individual participates in an EOA investigation or informal resolution process.

Reporting to EOA may initiate an investigation under the Code of Student Conduct and/or applicable OSU Policy. EOA does not share information with law enforcement, except as required to report concerns of child abuse/neglect, immediate safety concerns on campus, or threats of harm to individuals.

Reporting to Campus Public Safety

OSU Department of Public Safety (DPS)
Emergency: 911
Non-emergency: 541-737-3010
Website: <https://publicsafety.oregonstate.edu/>

Located on the Corvallis Campus, available 24/7 for non-emergency consultation and recommendations for safety.

Reporting to Law Enforcement

Emergency: 911
Non-emergency: Call 211 or go to 211info.org for assistance finding your local law enforcement agency.

Or, for a comprehensive list of federal, state, and local law enforcement, search here:
<https://www.police1.com/law-enforcement-directory/search/oregon/>

Law enforcement provides 24/7 emergency response and enforcement of criminal law.

INFORMATION ON PROTECTIVE ORDERS (RESTRAINING ORDERS)

Protective orders are available to help survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, elder abuse, and persons with disabilities experiencing abuse. Contact your local courthouse or your local domestic/sexual violence advocacy center for more information and assistance with getting a protective order.

Typically a Protective Order is obtained through your local county courthouse.
Find your local courthouse here: <https://www.courts.oregon.gov/courts/Pages/default.aspx>

CONFIDENTIALITY

Prior to disclosing information to any office, you can ask about that office's confidentiality requirements and limitations, if any. Many confidential offices may be required to report certain information to law enforcement or other agencies (see confidentiality exemptions below).

Student Health Services (SHS) *

No information about a student can be released to any third party without the student's permission to do so. With a student's consent, SHS may disclose information for the purposes of providing medical treatment and to bill the student's insurance company for services and treatment received.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) *

CAPS maintains confidential records of all contacts with clients. No identifying information about a student's contact with CAPS will be disclosed to anyone outside CAPS without the student's written authorization.

There are some legal confidentiality exemptions for both SHS and CAPS, as well as for many other confidential offices on and off campus. In these rare circumstances, providers may need to disclose information without the person's written consent:

- If the person states intent to harm self or someone else.
- If the person reports current abuse or neglect of a vulnerable adult or child.
- As a result of a court order or subpoena.

Additional confidentiality exemptions for SHS

- To verify to the university whether a student has completed all mandatory immunizations.
- Other instances required by law; for example, certain communicable diseases must be reported to the local County Health Department.

Additional confidentiality exemptions for CAPS

- When mental illness is used as a defense in a criminal or civil action.
